

A new year-long social arts project for young people in Sheffield

LISTEN 52 is a youth leadership and arts engagement project in Sheffield, leading to an ambitious city centre performance in Summer 2022. 8 Young Producers (16-21yrs) will join Chol to discover children and young people's hopes and fears about what their world will be like 30 years from now.

The Listen 52 team will hit the road in Chol's new mobile base, the Cholavan, creatively engaging hundreds of children and young people in their locality. The Young Producers will gather stories, recruit young performers, and build momentum towards their final event where audiences will witness large-scale projections, sound installations, and live performers sharing vital messages from the year 2052.

As part of Listen 52 we will:

Work with 8 young people through a 10 month paid internship (approx 12 hours per month)

Deliver creative workshops for school and library partners from January - May 2022

Collaborate with community partners, professional artists and the young producers to offer creative activity in the heart of communities in Burngreave, Sharrow, Walkley, and Manor via the Cholavan

Co-write, produce, and present a brand new outdoor piece of theatre with young people in Sheffield City Centre in Summer 2022.

Chol's overarching mission is to lead a creative revolution in local communities - where every young person feels powerful, valued, and connected. We co-create stories in everyday community and educational spaces with children and young people from early years to early career. We're looking for a new cohort of Young People to make artwork with us that gets noticed and speaks volumes.

We would love to hear from you
